

Fact Sheet

What is BridgeMAXX?

- BridgeMAXX is a service of DigitalBridge Communications. DigitalBridge provides easy, fast, portable and reliable wireless Internet access.
- BridgeMAXX is a certified WiMAX solution, among one of the first of its kind in the country.
- BridgeMAXX provides a simple, “off-the-shelf” wireless high-speed Internet service. Customers within our primary service area can establish an Internet connection in minutes. We ship them a small modem, about the size of a paper back book. Customers plug in the modem to a power outlet and to their computer. No additional software or technical configuration is needed.
- BridgeMAXX connects to the Internet over licensed spectrum. Tower equipment transmits radio signals from a base site to the modem, which easily connects a user’s computer to the Internet. The technology eliminates the need for traditional cable or phone wiring. It can even reach people outside the service areas of traditional high-speed Internet solutions.
- The portable BridgeMAXX modem can be moved from place-to-place inside our coverage area. Customers use the service throughout their home, school, office or favorite coffee house—anywhere with a power outlet.

Where is BridgeMAXX available?

- BridgeMAXX is currently available in Rexburg, Idaho.
- In fall 2007, BridgeMAXX will be available in Washington, Indiana, Missoula, Montana, and Appomattox, Virginia.
- DigitalBridge Communications is expanding BridgeMAXX service to other parts of southeast Idaho, Montana, Indiana, and Virginia in the coming months.

How fast is BridgeMAXX service?

- BridgeMAXX has multiple plans available with varying speeds up to 3Mbps for residential and business services.

How much does BridgeMAXX service cost?

- BridgeMAXX plans start at $24.99 per month ranging to $39.99 per month. Our modem rental costs $4.00 per month. Visit www.bridgemaxx.com to see which plan is best for your needs.

Is BridgeMAXX similar to a Wi-Fi hot spot?

- While Wi-Fi is good for a public square or coffee shop, BridgeMAXX technology is good for an entire town. Wi-Fi works like a low-powered radio, broadcasting over a small area. We broadcast the BridgeMAXX signal over spectrum that we either own or lease. Because there is no interference, we broadcast a high-powered, high-quality signal, reaching more homes and business.
- Unlike hot spots, which offer Internet access within the walls of a small area, BridgeMAXX service works anywhere inside its market coverage footprint. The end result is a portable, secure, high-speed experience.
